Iditarod Trail Committee statement regarding Dr. Morrie Craig

Anchorage, Alaska – The Iditarod Trail Committee is aware of a conversation about drug testing results between Dr. Morrie Craig and Iditarod XLVI musher Wade Marrs prior to the restart in Willow, Alaska, on Sunday.

The ITC wants to acknowledge that Dr. Craig’s conversation with Wade Marrs was ill timed at best. ITC does not condone any threatening or harassing behavior by anyone involved with the Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race, whether it is ITC representatives, mushers, or other persons.

The ITC is reviewing this situation and will make a determination on Dr. Craig’s role with the Iditarod Drug Testing program in the coming days.
